Stassen Bulbs from Holland Again!

Since the liberation of Holland we have received encouraging reports direct from our associates, the N. V. L. STASSEN JUNIOR, Hillegom, Holland. Only a small portion of the bulb fields suffered from inundation or invasion. True, there were tremendous difficulties—every stick of wood in Holland was burned for heat or fuel, men were emaciated and although willing to work were without the strength to continue for more than a few hours, many Tulip bulbs were eaten.

But the growers kept faith, and the high standard of Holland bulbs as known the world over was never permitted to be lowered. In fact, many improvements in varieties have been made and we are surprised at the fine size of bulbs available this season for export.

We are now ready to resume supplying Holland bulbs direct from the Holland grower at a considerable saving to our customers. This catalog contains a fine selection of the most desirable Holland Tulips of the finest quality, as well as Hyacinths, Crocus and other spring-flowering bulbs such as have not been available for the past five years.

Exquisite New Tulip Varieties

For the guidance of those who wish to select the very best of the favorite May-flowering Tulips, we offer on this page, in addition to the popular Darwin, Cottage and Breeder varieties listed on the pages 4 to 7, a list of real outstanding varieties.

Each one of the following varieties is, in our opinion, outstanding in its class and color. All are exquisite in tints and the perfection of grace in form.

Advance. Orange-scarlet with salmon-orange flush, the base almost black. Enormous flower.....	3	12	$0 50	$1 60
All Bright. Carmine-red with light blood-red edges.....	45	1	50

Popular DARWIN TULIPS

The most useful Tulips for garden decoration and cutting are found in the Darwin class. Their typical features are the tall, upright stems and the large, cup-shaped flowers, whilst their flowering period comes at the happiest time of the year, when Nature is painting the earth with her loveliest colors. Fill beds with these Tulips; plant them in borders, in front of evergreens, or along the edge of shrubbery and you will be assured of a colorful spring garden during May, extending into June in the northerly districts. Darwin Tulips give cut-flowers of extraordinary quality, which last a long time in water.

DARWIN TULIPS in Separate Colors

Eight of the finest shades suitable for bedding on a large scale at very advantageous prices. This offer in separate colors is for those garden owners who prefer a certain color but who leave the choice of variety to us. For each color we supply only one variety, so that, having the same flowering period and habits, they may safely be planted where a uniform show is required. For whatever purpose you intend to use them the results will always be magnificent.

INEXPENSIVE RAINBOW MIXTURE of DARWIN TULIPS

A mixture, so long as it is good, has many advantages for the enthusiastic flower lover. It is, as it were, a surprise, for you do not know what colored flower the bulb will produce. What a lovely picture you will have when your beds of Darwin Tulips in their motley color variations smile up at you. This well-proportioned mixture excels in color beauty. It consists of light, dark, and intervening shades, not too many bright colors or too many pale ones, but harmonizing, bright, striking and fine. Besides the almost perfect beauty this mixture displays in the garden, it gives a wealth of long-stemmed flowers for cutting, exceedingly suitable for graceful bouquets in your rooms.

Special Mixture of "Blooming-size" Darwin Tulips

A special offer of young bulbs which have grown this year to "Blooming-size." This size will produce a nice display of flowers the first season, although they will not be as large and the stems not as sturdy as produced by "first-size" bulbs. Under good growing conditions the "Blooming-size" bulbs will have developed to "first size" Tulip bulbs the following season.

Here's an opportunity to satisfy that desire to have a planting of Tulips at low cost to usher in the spring season. In this mixture of "Blooming-size" Darwins many colors and hues are blended together.

FANTASY

PARROT TULIPS

Fantasy. It is not only the strangely exciting form of this glorious Parrot Tulip that entralls one; it is the delightful warm pink color which is more magnificent than words can tell. You will like to have some of these quaintly shaped flowers for clumps here and there in the border or in front of evergreens.

FOR NATURALIZING

Is there a sight more welcome than the nodding Daffodils or Narcissus under trees or a shrubby planting, brightening the April landscape? Millions of them are distributed each season, and in the early days of spring there is hardly a garden large or small where their vivid colors are not displayed. They are planted in small groups in front of shrubs, in rockeries, or in masses in woods, fields, lawns; in fact, anywhere, where they can be left alone to increase from year to year.

TRUMPET DAFFODIL MIXTURE. A choice assortment of yellow Trumpet Daffodils recommended for planting in beds, borders, or as edgings where they will become naturalized. They will increase rapidly every year to give a fine display with practically no attention or care 25 for $1.35

Matchless DUTCH HYACINTHS

A bed or border of sweet-scented Hyacinths always creates a most charming display in the garden in early spring. Any flower-fancier who has once admired the splendor of the Hyacinth in his garden will consider it incomplete in the future without some beds or groups of these beautiful flowers, and he will impatiently watch their development and enjoy with ever-returning enthusiasm the tender beauty of the well-shaped, highly perfumed flower spikes.

The following named varieties are suitable for growing in pots, in window-boxes, or in the garden where very large, compact flowers are desired.

The Heralds of Spring

The finding in bloom of the "First Flowers of Spring" is a great event and one of the genuine delights of life. No garden, however small, should be without the showy Chionodoxas, charming Scillas, lovely Snowdrops, and dainty Grape Hyacinths. Do not miss this opportunity of delight—plant as many bulbs as space permits. They take very little room and, once planted, they reappear and bloom each spring.

CROCUS

These gay "Heralds of Spring" will grow in many places—in the lawn, flower borders, rock-gardens, in sun or shade, and even under trees. You will enjoy them every spring for many years.

CHIONODOXA (Glory-of-the-Snow)

The most cheerful of the early spring flowers. Produces bunches of star-shaped flowers on a stem 5 inches tall. A mass planting of these sky-blue flowers with white hearts forms a real beauty-spot. Can remain undisturbed for years to increase. Bloom in April.

GRAPE HYACINTHS (Muscari)

The Grape Hyacinth is a favorite among our early spring-flowering bulbs. Who is not familiar with these delicate spires of blue that loom up like so many fairy sceptres? You can make the most beautiful edgings and groups with them; they look charming in the rock-garden and so pretty beneath trees and shrubs. Muscari require very little attention and flower abundantly for a long period; they can be left for years undisturbed to return each spring with more and larger flowers.

CALOCHORTUS or BUTTERFLY TULIPS

Until one has seen a good collection of these bulbs, he has no idea how much Nature can do in the variation of one flower. The wonderfully marked eyes and dots and pencilings in rich colors of each flower are much like those on a butterfly's wings. They grow from 1 to 2 feet high and have from one to many flowers on a stem.

ERYTHRONIUM (Dog's-Tooth Violet)

The charm of these enchanting woodland plants is so well shown in the color illustration that words seem futile. Had they no other beauty than that of the richly mottled leaves, they would be well worth a place in the garden. They thrive in wooded places, under shrubs, and in shaded corners of the rockery, where they readily naturalize. They are hardy in the coldest parts of the United States. Bloom in April and grow 5 to 10 inches tall.

DUTCH IRIS

Of all the spring-flowering Iris, this is the finest and most satisfactory race. They produce large flowers on strong stems, which not only make them preferable as cut-flowers but also effective in the flower garden, in beds, groups and edgings. For best effect plant them closely together. They come to bloom in June and after the May-flowering Tulips are through blooming. Dutch Iris may be left in the ground for years in succession, if planted in a sunny location.
